3. NBIB Investigators collected information concerning the background of applicants and their suitability to receive security clearances from multiple sources, including the FBI.
4. As part of the required background investigation, applicants for security clearances were required to complete an Electronic Questionnaire for Investigations Processing, and on that form certify "I have read the instructions and I understand that if I withhold, misrepresent, or falsify information on this form, I am subject to the penalties for inaccurate or false statement (per U.S. Criminal Code Title 18, section 1001), denial or revocation of a security clearance, and/or removal and debarment from Federal Service."

5. The Electronic Questionnaire for Investigations Processing also advised applicants that the investigation into their backgrounds could include personal interviews of them by NBIB investigators, who might ask the applicants to explain the answers they gave on the questionnaire.

6. On August 1, 2018, FBI Special Agents interviewed the defendant, FRED C. ARENA. During the interview, the agents asked ARENA whether he was a member of an extremist group known as Vanguard America, and ARENA said that he was not.

8. On May 6, 2019, the defendant, FRED C. ARENA, was interviewed in person, under oath, by special agents of the Office of Personnel Management National Background Investigations Bureau (NBIB), who warned ARENA that any false statements that he made to them could be punished by a fine or imprisonment or both under 18 U.S.C. § 1001.
